Presidential Election 2008: *Think-Tac-Toe

Everything in this column must be completed and included in your final project.	For Social Studies you may choose any of the three boxes below to complete for your project.
Reading Candidates and their speeches	Model Using unusual materials create a model that represents one of the presidential candidate's belief for the role of government in America today	Commercial Create a commercial for either Obama or McCain that appeals to undecided voters based on the issues-you may use any media you already know how to use to create this	Board Game Design a game board that represents the steps one must take to become a presidential candidate and eventually win the presidency of The United States
Science Science and the Election	Political Cartoon Compare and contrast a political issue that was important in a previous U.S. election to the current election and explain the similarities/differences through a political cartoon	Diary Entries Take on the role of either Obama or McCain and compose a series of diary entries (at least 5 entries each a minimum of 1 paragraph) focused on the political issues of this year's election—through words paint a picture of the struggle to become president	Letter to Candidate Imagine you are one of our founding fathers (Jefferson, Madison, etc.) looking down on this year's presidential election and write a formal letter from the founding father to either Obama or McCain analyzing the way they are running their election
Math Electoral College	Morphing Candidates Morph Obama and McCain together in a picture (using whatever medium/media you know how to use) and then add a caption(s) that explain what the ideal candidate would be if a few ideas from each candidate were combined	Song/Poem Create a song, or poem, that represents the platform for either Obama or McCain (you must include details on at least three major topics such as economics, national security, education, etc.)  *You must include a hard copy of your song/poem to turn in, but you may also include the music☺	Futuristic Dialogue Imagine you get stuck alone in an elevator with either McCain or Obama three months after they become president—write a page or two explaining the dialogue that takes place about what he has already done to help, or hurt, the country
Language Arts Candidate Baseball Cards

The 3 activities I have chosen for my project are: _____, _____, and _____.

I must start with _____ activity first because I need the computer lab to complete this portion of my project.
