

Writing Great Questions and Thinking Tasks

The _____ Region of the U.S.

When questions help others to use different levels of thinking they are great questions!
 You are going to write 6 questions, 2 questions for each section of the book: Land, Economics and Culture.

Three questions must be from the first 3 levels of thinking, and three must be from the more complex levels (the second 3).

Start with a question word or with a verb. Use the chart below to give you ideas about your questions. Two extra spaces are available for more questions.

Level of Thinking	Question Words	Verbs
Knowledge	What? Where? When? Is? Did? Does?	Tell Label List Name Recall
Comprehension	What can? Where would? When would? What is?	Describe Explain Locate Define
Application	How might? How would? When might? When would?	Show how Relate Illustrate Demonstrate
.....	.....	.....
Analysis	How are ___ alike? How are they different?	Compare Diagram Put in categories Organize
Synthesis	What might happen if...? If ___ what would? What would you change and how?	Invent Change Imagine Suppose
Evaluation	Which _____. do you agree with, and why? Which _____ would you prefer and why? What is your opinion of ____ ? State your reasons.	Determine Decide Judge Choose Recommend
