Regarding my attitude toward reading, I would say that (check one):

I love to read, and there's something wonderful about sitting down in a comfy chair with a good book.	I enjoy reading somewhat, but I wouldn't say it's something I do very often.	I don't really care, but I'll read if I need to without really complaining about it.	I only read if I absolutely have to, and even then it's like a visit to the dentist.	Yeah, right! Good luck getting ME to read!

Regarding my attitude toward writing, I would say that (check one):

I love to write, and I try to write something every day on my own. Do you think I could give you some of my work to read?	I enjoy writing somewhat, but I wouldn't say it's something I would do on my own.	I don't really care, but I'll write if I need to without really complaining about it.	I only write things for school, and even then it's like a visit to the dentist.	Are you kidding? I almost didn't even fill in the forms here!
